You Want the

Right Kind of Clothes

This Spring

And we want you to have them. The new things are now arriving; we're ready to give you an early look at the best clothes ever shown. We've made preparations for your needs as carefully as if you were the only customer we had.

We're not the only one; you may even go somewhere else for your clothes; but this is the only store where you can get our kind of clothes.

Hart Schaffner & Marx

make our finest goods; they're the cheapest clothes you can buy; not because they're the lowest in price, but because you get more for every dollar you pay than in any other clothes made.

Before you decide on your Spring suit see these.

Suits . . . . . $20 and up

In preparing our spring stock we have not forgotten the little chaps. Our Widow Jones Knickerbocker Suits for boys surpass anything we have ever shown before for style, workmanship and perfect fit. Mothers, bring your boys here for their clothes. We can dress them up in full, with prices that please you and clothes that please the boy.

Boys' Waists, Shirts, Collars, Ties, Shoes, Hats, Knickerbocker peg-top Pants, Children's Rompers, and Caps of all kinds.

Our Boys' and Children's Department this year surpasses any of the previous years.

Some Real Scrapping in Old Mexico.

Mexico City, March 22.—General Trucy Aubert with 500 federals is reported officially to have beaten and routed 1,800 rebels under General Salazar after five hours fighting about twenty miles north of Jiminex. Many men on both sides are said to have been killed in the engagement.

Enrique Creel, former minister of foreign affairs Friday authorized an unequivocal denial of a report that his bank at Chihuahua would take a part of the bond issue of $12,500,000 of the new revolutionary administration.

SUCCESS

"He has achieved success who has lived well, laughed often and loved much; who has always looked for the best in others and has given the best he had; whose life was an inspiration; whose memory is a benediction."

That sounds mighty good and we believe in that kind of sentiment.

We have achieved a fair share of success in having built up a large business in Rexall Remedies. We feel gratified over this, because we know that when we sell a bottle of "93" Hair Tonic we have done somebody a great favor; that when we sell a box of Rexall Orderlies, some one has been relieved of Constipation; that when we sell a bottle of Rexall Sarsaparilla, some one will have a clearer head, a healthier liver and a lighter heart. This is a great line of Remedies' there is a remedy for nearly every human ill, and what is better each one of these is guaranteed. We refund the money if YOU are not absolutely satisfied. Now last night some of you may have been disturbed and greatly worried because Baby had a continous cough, this is unneccessary, get a bottle of Rexall Cherry Juice and keep it in the house.

DIRECT PRIMARY GAINS FAVOR

MAY YET BE METHOD OF MAKING PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATIONS IN ALL PARTIES.

Washington, March 23.—A number of delegates to the next National Democratic convention will be chosen through state-wide primaries.

This new system has been fixed by law in some of the states, and, it is believed, will be adopted by a great many more when the time arrives to arrange preliminaries for the selection of the next presidential delegates.

Five states will choose delegates by direct vote. These states North Dakota, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Oregon, New Jersey.

It has been pointed out that the state committee in any of the states, may, if the democratic voters of that state desire it, decide that the delegates be chosen by direct vote of the democrats. The South seems to be taking hold of the new idea with remarkable favor.

Politicians, both republicans and democrats, who are urging the adoption of the direct-vote plan throughout the country, point out that in most states a political party may choose delegates to the national convention by any plan it chooses to adopt. Where the question of expense has been put forward by the opponents of the new plan, politicians advocating the direct vote system insist that any political party should be able and willin gto bear the expenses of the new plan of selection of delegates. The whole subject is likely to receive consiedrable attention in the next two months, when city, county and state committees will receive a general shaking up, and adopt plans for the selection of delegates to the national convention.

The prediction is made by some democratic leaders that about half of the Southern states will use the direct-vote plan in selection of delegates . A resolution was passed some time ago by the Texas legislature advising the state democratic committee that it should adopt the direct-vote system for selecting delegates to the next national convention. It is generally believed that the advice of the legislature will be followed by the committee ,and means provided at the next meeting of that body for carrying out the innovation.

The voters of Mississippi, Arkansas ,and four or five other states in the South are showing a preference for the popular vote idea a,nd the state committees are exhibiting a willingness to comply with their wishes.

Democrats who are in favor of nominating Governor Judson Harmon as their next standard bearer in the presidential election, are naturally disposed to favor the use of the direct vote method, because, they claim it will mean more delegates for their candidate.

Up to the present time the political managers of the candidates for the democratic presidential nomination have done very little toward trying to prevail upon committees in the northern states to adopt the direct-vote method. They express the belief ,however, that numerous northern states will, within the next few months adopt the new plan by unanimous consent. Harmon adherents who have made trips through the southern states within the past few months in the interest of their candidate, have brought back the report here that if the South would generally adopt the direct vote plan, practically all the delegates from that section would be pledged to the Ohio governor. These men claim that they found the rank and file of the democratic party in the South in favor of the direct-vote method, but in a number of the states they found politicians who are supporting some other candidate for the nomination holding out for the old convention plan of selecting delegates.

The direct-vote plan is also favored on the republican side by the LaFollette adherents, and the managers of the Wisconsin progressive's campaign for the nomination express the hope that agreement may be reached in several of the northern states under which the old convention method of selecting candidates may be set aside in favor of the new direct vote plan. Proposals a long this line have already been made by the LaFollette managers to leading politicians in the state of Iowa, and considerable time will be devoted to laying the plan before the leaders in western and middle western states.

The LaFollette people believe that the republican voters of Iowa if allowed to give direct voice to their sentiments would favor the selection of Senator LaFollette as the next presidential candidate. They assert that Taft has been steadily losing ground in Iowa, while LaFollette has been growing in favor, and that with the direct-vote system in operation LaFollette would gain the majority of the delegates from that state.

Widespread attention will be attracted to the preliminary skirmish for delegates from the five states that are obliged, under the law, to vote directly on who is to represent them at the national convention.

WHO WILL BE STATE CHAIRMAN?

Oklahoma City, March 23.—A conference was held here Thursday night between ex-Gov. Haskell and friends of Robert Galbreath of Tulsa, recently indorsed for Democratic National commi.teeman, resulting in the selection of George Keys, of Lawton, for State Democratic chairman to succeed Fred P. Branson.

Keys is nd a member of the State committee, and it may be said that his his selection is limited, as understood today, to the Haskell-Galbreath forces. Haskell is quoted as opposing the candidacy of Tom Harrell, of Wagoner, owing to Harrell's friendliness for Robert L. Owen, whom Haskell is opposing for the United States senate. Acording to local Democrats, the ex-governor asked members of the committee and others to settle upon anyone other than the Wagoner man.

Col. Roy Hoffman, acceptable to the Haskell forces, is objectionable to Senator Owen. Hoffman comes from Chandler and was named by Haskell as a member of the state board of affairs and later as District Judge to succeed J. B. A. Robertson in the Chandler district. According to local information, Senator Owen would not object to D. H. Linebaugh of Atoka who was chairman of the recent democratic state convention, yet, the senator's friends say, he would much prefer the chairmanship left open until the new state committee is elected, thus doing away with two campaigns for state chairman.

It is not at all certain that the organization will listen to the preference or obpections of either of the senatorial candidates, since the state committee is a product of the party and not particular aspirants for office, is an opinion being freely expressed. There is no secret of the fact that members of the state administration are openly for Tom Harrell, who is classed as one of the strongest democratic fighters in Oklahoma and a consistent supporters of the administration.

This recalls Gov. Cruce's defi to the state convention in February, when, after attempts made to criticise him for certain executive acts, among them failure to call a special session of the legislature, the governor announced that for the next three years the administration would take care of its friends.

During his round of the state departments yesterday ex-Gov. Haskell encountered no little Harrell sentiment, and, according to local gossip, Keys' name has been put forth as a sort of olive branch for all factions to accept. Keys was candidate in the democratic primary two years ago for attorney general.

If the alleged slate of last night is adhered to it means the dropping of Boon Williams of Lehigh, whom the Haskell people have been supporting. According to a local poll, fifty-eight of the seventy-six committee votes are accounted for, Williams having thirty-one and Linebaugh twenty-seven, leaving eighteen which might go to Harrell. Linebaugh, it is stated, would withdraw in favor of Harrell, but his strength could not solidly be transferred. Election of a chairman occurs here April 6.

If Haskell, Cruce et al can't agree on the successor of Fred Branson as state chairman, they had better compromise matters by settling on John Crawford of Ada. John can give the republicans a race for their money.

Washington dispatches indicate that Lorimer will again be given a clean bill of health by the senate. However, he has received no such bill from the people of the nation. Brickbats are about all that has come his way from the direction of the citienzship of the country.

A few days ago the wife of an Illinois judge became too free with her tongue while in her husband's court and he promptly assessed a fine against her for contempt of court. That judge has enough nerve to handle the Virginia outlaws or to lead the Italian army in a charge on the Turkish works. However, it sometimes requires real sure enough courage to maintain one's dignity.

Gov. McCreary vetoed an anti-tipping bill passed by the Kentucky legislature. He says such a measure is an insult to intelligence and freedom. He is about right, too. No one forces a man to tip a waiter, porter or any one else, but the trouble is that many have not the courage to break a time honored custom and would rather be held up than incur the contempt of these dignitaries. They then run to the legislature and ask it to do for them what they have not the moral courage to do for themselves.

We know very little about geology and the formations in which it may reasonably be expected to find oil and gas, and could not say what the surface indications around Ada point to, but somehow in view of what has been found in the past, we can't help but be optimistic over the matter and believe strongly in the future of this section as a field for development. Gas been struck in many shallow wells, and the oil found in the first well west of town are facts sufficient to encourage any one to have more faith in the possibilities of this immediate vicinity. Slowly the field has been extended southwest from Kansas and even in the Red River region of Texas fields are being developed, and to us it does not look like an idle dream to believe that within a very few months Ada will be in the center of a new one that will make the town a real city as rapidly as it did Tulsa. Before another winter rolls around we hope to see the town supplied with natural gas and the county a net work of pipe lines for oil.

The DeSota theatre has a first class program again this evening. You can't afford to miss seeing "A Modern Highwayman" and the "Artist Financier."Both pictures are rich.

INDIAN'S VERSION OF "HOUN' DAWG" SONG

Spokane, Wsh., March 23.—Delvers into the early history of the Northwest claim they have indubitable evidence that the "Houn' Dawg" song of the Ozarks was heard by Hernan Cortez, the conqueror of Mexico, when he reached the Oregon country on a plundering tour, 40 years after the discovery of the western continent. The song in Chinook, the universal language of the Northern Indians, follows:

Quanisum nika chako copa town
Tenas-man chukin nika comox conaway kah;
Cultus copa nika spose yaka mowitch comox,
Klaska delata kopet chukin nika comox conaway kah.

"There are several Indian versions which show trace of apparent French origin," said R. B. Milroy, chairman of the republican central committee of Yakima county, Wash., "but I do not think that the song was brought into the northwest by early French priests. The versions containing French words simply show the result of the mingling of tongues in the early days.

"The Chinook Indians were once the great trading tribe of the Northwest, and they came into contact with the voyagers the early French settlements of eastern Canada sent out toward the Pacific slope and intermountain country, as well as the factors and men of the Hudson's Bay company."

A. J. Splawn, mayor of North Yakima, who has lived in central Washington since 1861 and has been friend and adviser of the Indians there a half century, says while he greatly admires Champ Clark he thinks it only just that the red man of the Northwest be given credit, as he is satisfied the "Houn' Dawg" song is of Indian origin.

E. H. LUCAS GIVES NEW VERSION OF "HOUN' DAWG"

Every time I go to town,
I find cement stacked all around,
And it's not "OK" it's the old coarse ground,
But they gotta quit kickin "OK aroun.

CHORUS.

Every time I come to town
The boys start kickin' my dawg aroun';
Makes no diff'rence if he is a houn';
They gotta quit kickin' my dawg aroun'.

"Beck" is now in K. C. town
Fixin' the merger, safe and sound.
Makes no diff'rence if I am a houn,
They gotta quit kickin' "OK" aroun'.

They'll be sorry they kicked "OK" around,
For they'll have to pay freight from Kansas town,
While we furnish "OK" right on the ground.

Some mills are broke and are shut down,
But "OK" wheels fly round and round
Makes no diff'rence we'll pave the ground,
And they'll have to quit kickin' "OK" around.

Every time I make a town,
And find Cement stacked all around,
It makes me mad, "George" if it aint fine ground,
But they gotta quit kickin' "OK" around.

Phillips on Matrimony.

The late David Graham Phillips had, like many bachelors, a cynical view of matrimony. Mr. Phillips, at a reunion of Princeton's class of '87, at the Princeton club, said of marriage: "The Persians have a proverb that every young man should consider well before proposing. It runs: 'He that ventureth on matrimony is like unto one who thrusteth his hand into a sack containing many thousands of serpents and one eel. Yet, if the prophet so will it, he may draw forth the eel.'"

CLUB OF SIXTY ORGANIZED AT ROFF

This morning F. P. Lieuallen, Bailey Bobbitt, Jesse Warren and Murrell Matthews returned from Roff, much elated over their success in organizing a Young Men's Democratic club at that place Saturday evening. In spite of the bad weather they report a large attendance and an organization of sixty members of which Clay Jones was elected president.

It is the purpose of the organization to discoss questions of the day and in that way disseminate much valuable information. In line with this plan it was decided that at the next meeting, Friday evening, April 5, a debate on the question of electing or appointing Federal judges would form a part of the program.

Rhodes Scholars.

The number of Rhodes scholars at Oxford now is 175 of whom 90 are Americans. They receive $1,500 a year each. Only fourteen of the lot are taking the "greats" or regular classical course; the preference is for the jurisprudence and other courses which give better training for everyday life. Oxford is very weak in science, as she considers such things too practical and common. Of the 250 Rhodes scholars who had left Oxford by 1910 more have gone into teaching than anything else, namely 85; the law has claimed 65, the pulpit 20, medicine 11, science 9. The Rhodes men, being picked out partly for their exceptional physique, stand high as a class in athletics and are helping greatly to bring honor to the university.—The Pathfinder.

JACKSON'S CLOSE CALL.

Old Hickory Came Near Filling a Martyr's Grave.

(Kansas City Star.)

If a pistol aimed at President Andrew Jackson 77 years ago had not missed fire much of our history might have been different. Fortunate, the attempt at assassination failed, and historians record it as the first time that an open attack was ever made upon the chief executive of the nation. Three presidents have been victims since.

General Jackson on this day in 1835 went to the capitol to attend the funeral of Warren R. Davis, of South Carolina. Richard Lawrence, a young painter, also went to the services. He was standing on the eastern portico of the house of representatives when President Jackson, accompanied by the secretary of the treasury, approached.

When within two yards Lawrence jerked a pistol from under his cloak aimed and fired at the president. Before Secretary Woodbury could leap on the assailant another pistol was brought out in a similar manner and fired at Jackson. The president raised his cane to strike the would-be assassin, but already persons standing near had rushed the painter and crushed him to the floor. The percussion cap missed fire on the first weapon. With the second pistol the aim was poor.

"Let me go!" Jackson yelled, as others gathered around the president to protect him. "I am not afraid—he can't kill me—I can protect myself!"

Lawrence was hastened to jail, although many angry men urged that he be lynched. He was a handsome young man of about 35 years, small in stature, pale complexion, dark eyes genteel deportment and well dressed.

When asked why he attempted to assassinate the president, Lawrence said:

"About ten days before making the attempt I called on the president at his house and stated to him that I was in want of money and wished him to give me a check for it. The president made no particular objection to this demand, but stated that Dr. Dibble wished to see him and that I must call again."

"Why did you call upon the president with such a demand?" he was asked.

"Because he knew, as I supposed every person did, the true situation of things. The president is my clerk and I have control over his money and his bank and the sword, and if he refused to comply, he knew the consequences."

"Did you expect any aid in your undertaking to kill the president?"

"No, I needed none. I have the right to the crown of England. It has always been in my ancestors. They were deprived of it by force. My father was then reduced to labor and had to drive a coal cart in London. He was fond of hunting, riding and shooting and was frequently called upon by noblemen and persons of distinction, notwithstanding his reduced circumstances."

The rumors that Lawrence was the tool of a set of political buccaneers who wished to wrest the control from the Jacksonian party soon died out when it was learned that Lawrence was a lunatic. Upon the day of the trial Lawrence appeared in court very much at ease. Many believed that his insanity was feigned and the court, determined that there must be perfect proof of an unsound mind, called the case in its regular order on the docket. On proceeding to call the panel Lawrence arose.

"I observe," he said, "that a jury has been called. I wish to know if this is correct. I certainly am king."

"You must sit down," the judge commended, "and be quiet, Mr. Lawrence, until called upon to answer."

Lawrence sat down, but not until he had reiterated that he was king of Great Britain and all the kingtoms over the seas. Throughout the trial, while the witnesses were being examined, he continually interjected remarks, such as, "It is for me, gentlemen, to pass upon you, and not you upon me. You are under me, gentlemen." And when the secretary of the treasury began to give his version of the attempted assassination, Lawrence interrupted.

The jury was out only five minutes, returning with the verdict: "Not guilty, he having been under the influence of insanity at the time the crime was committed."

Lawrence was committed to a hospital where he died 30 years later.

S.S.S. CURES OLD SORES

If an old sore existed simply because the flesh was diseased at that particular spot, it would be an easy matter to apply some remedy directly to the place that would kill the germs; or the diseased flesh might be removed by a surgical operation and a cure effected. But the very fact that old sores resist every form of local or external treatment, and even return after being cut away, shows that back of them is a morbid cause which must be removed before a cure can result. Just as long as the pollution continues in the blood, the ulcer remains an open cesspool for the deposit of impurities which the circulation throws off. S. S. S. cures Old Sores by purifying the blood. It removes every trace of impurity and taint from the circulation, and thus completely does away with the cause. When S. S. S. has cleansed the blood, the sore begins to heal, and it is not a surface cure, but the healing process begins at the bottom; soon the discharge ceases, the inflammation leaves, and the place fills in with firm, healthy flesh. Under the purifying and tonic effects of S. S. S. the system is built up, and those whose health has been impaired by the drain and worry of an old sore will be doubly benefited by its use. "A Red Cross Martyr

—OR—

On the Firing Lines at Tripoli"

The Only REAL BATTLE Picture ever shown, and was Made by the Vitagraph Co. at Tripoli under the Protection of the U. S. Government.

The story told in this picture is of more than ordinary interest, and are FACTS. In the cause of humanity, a beautiful Italian girl becomes a Red Cross Nurse. Her lover, a Lieutenant, is on the firing lines of Tripoli. She is killed at her duties by the treacherous Turks. Her sweetheart unexpectedly discovers her among the dead, and bombards the town from an aeroplane, laying it in ruins. The aeroplane is disabled and he is dashed to death. Together the Red Cross Nurse and the young Lieutenant are buried with military honors, reunited in everlasting peace and love. Aside from its beautiful romance, this picture will hold your unabated attention, while following it through the battle scenes of fierce combat of modern warfare.

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constanly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dresssing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

Get a bottle today, and let it do for you what it has done for thousands of others.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle. Special Agents, Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

The road building last Friday between Stonewall and Frisco was well attended and some good work done. Although the road was not completed it was greatly improved and the work will be finished later. Commissioner Richardson, who was present and assisted in the arrangements, says that when the Jesse road is to be worked he will have the county convicts assist and the hill just south of town will be cut down to a considerably lower grade. The road will be made around the second hill instead of across, as it now runs.—Stonewall News.

This evening the Majestic will present a war drama made at Tripoli. It shows a Red Cross nurse killed by the treacherous Turks and the terrible revenge taken by her lover, an officer in the Italian army, who bombards and destroys the town with bombs hurled from his aeroplane. He himself is finally dashed to earth and killed by his machine and the scene closes with the burial of the officer and his loved one with military honors.

OFFICERS CAPTURE VIRGINIA OUTLAW

Hillsville, Va., March 22.—Sidna Edwards, a rugged mountaineer of 22 years, sat calmly in the darkness of the little brick jail here tonight, the first catch of the posses that have been scouring the mountains for those of the Allen gang who got away after the courthouse assassination when a judge, a prosecutor, a sheriff and two bystanders were killed and two others were seriously wounded.

Tonight young Edwards, emaciated and worn from a week's wandering in the thicket, protests his innocence of the indictment of murder against him and the hunters, spurred on by a day's success are up in the Blue Ridge searching for his brother, Wesley Edwards, his uncle, Sidna Allen and his cousins, Claude and Friet Allen.

A posse came upon Edwards at 4 o'clock this morning asleep in an empty house two miles from his home. He was unarmed and when he woke the detectives were at his side. He made no resistance and went to a farmer's house near Lamsburg, Va., and started for Hillsville with his captors early today. Jack Allen, his uncle—one of the Allens who was not at the court house on the day of the trial—joined his nephew on the way in, and came with the party to Hillsville.

Heat is what you want when you buy Coal—not ashes and clinkers. The Coal you buy from us is handled by us simply because we have made a thorough investigation of the fuel question and know that the DEWAR Soft Lump Coal actually carries more heat units than coal from any other mines.

Remember if you get 1500 lbs. of rump coal and 500 lbs. of slack for a ton you have really only 1500 lbs. of coal as the slack is worthless to you. We would not let you have slack if you wanted it as we need it for our boilers, so be sure and get our prices before you buy.

SIXTY-FOUR BODIES TAKEN FROM MINE

Fort Smith, Ark., March 22.—General Manager W. M. Bushnell of the Ft. Smith and Western Railway Company owners of the Sans Bois Coal company announced tonight that the death list of the Sans Bois mine horror at McCurtain, Ok., would not exceed seventy men. Twelve bodies were recovered today, making a total of sixty-four brought out since the explosion Six more men are in the mine, according to Mr. Bushnell.

"These figures may vary one or two either way," said Mr. Bushnell. This, however, is improbable.

Famine stalks in the path of sorrow left by the Sans Bois mine horror at McCurtain, Ok. Messages received here today indicate the town is practically without food. Extreme suffering is reported. Between 500 and 700 men from neighboring coal camps have hurried to McCurtain to search for friends and relatives and to assist in the rescue work. The little stores in the town have sold out their stocks and nothing but empty shelves remain.

In some instances entire stocks of groceries have been purchased outright and distributed among the families of the victims. The Fort Smith and Western Railway Company's general offices here this afternoon received a message asking for immediate relief. Two car loads of supplies were sent by special train. They arrived there tonight. Citizens here have raised a relief fund of more than $700 for the benefit of the victims and this amount is being used to furnish food for the town.

The death list is still problematical. Investigation among the coffin manufacturers of this city shows that more than 100 coffins have been ordered shipped to McCurtain. This does not include many coffins purchased from undertakers. Communication today with McCurtain from Fort Smith was frequently interrupted and little news was received from the town. It is known, however, that no more men have been found alive. Fourteen instead of thirteen as previously reported, were rescued alive yesterday, making a total of twenty-five who escaped death. Of this number one man is expected to die as a result of injuries sustained when the explosion picked up a car load of coal and sent the lumps at him with terrific force. Last night the bodies of three brothers, Sam, Hall and James Phillips, were recovered. Today the bodies of their two brothers-in-law were found. One of the brothers-in-law lost a son in the disaster.

Miss Shands Entertains T. K. Ks.

Last Saturday evening the T. K. Ks. met with Miss Shands. Quite a number of the girls attended the basket ball game, so the entertainment proper did not begin until after the game. Several of the young men were present during the entire evening. There were three tables of Bunkoo.

Delicious refreshments of pineapple sherbet and angel food and devil food cake were served.

The following were present: Misses Sowers, Garrison, Henderson, Torbett, Sledge, Brown and Tolbert.

Messrs. Kennedy, Harraway, Thompson and Sugg.

All enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The club meets with Miss Edyth Brown next Saturday evening.

TRIAL OF COLBY AND STOVALL AT NORMAN

Norman, Okla., March 22.—When Judge Robert McMillon rapped for order in the district court room here at one-thirty o'clock Friday afternoon the largest crowd yet in attendance at the Aurry murder trial was occupying every available foot of standing room to hear the most important witnesses of the defense give their testimony. For the first time a considerable portion of the audience was composed of women.

Placing witness after witness on the stand Thursday morning to testify to the fact that they heard from a distance two shots some time prior to the time the shooting became general, the defense sought to corroborate the evidence of earlier witnesses to the effect that the school party fired on Colby and Stovall while they were yet in the yard and unarmed.

The strongest testimony for the defense was given early Friday morning when Mr. Harding ,one of the three school trustees who led the Aurry party, took the stand and testified that he believed that the first shot came from his party. He was backed up by George Cochran, who from the rear of the attacking party claims to have seen Jake Yoder fire the first shot and wound Dr. Colby in the arm. It is believed that the state will make a strenuous attempt to impeach the damaging testimony of these two men before the legal battle is concluded.

Mrs. Vincent, who lived in the house on the school ground from which Colby and Stovall did their shooting, swore that she saw the two defendants in the yard just prior to the battle. She claims to have heard two shots fired in quick succession and then to have run into an adjoining room in search of her small children when she encountered Colby and Stovall entering the door on a run. She says they were unarmed and disappeared in the direction of the room where they had left their guns.

The nine year old Russell boy who was playing about the school house at the time of the bloody encounter, after declaring that "the bogey man would get little boys who told lies," testified that someone from the large party entering the gate fired on the two men standing by the fence inside. That they then ran into the house and he ran home when the bullets began to fly a few seconds later.

Late Friday morning the defense placed on the stand a surveyor to testify as to relative distances in an effort to prove that defendants had time to enter house and get guns before the general firing began following the first two reports as sworn to by the previous witnesses for the defense. The big map lying between the attorney's table and the jury box, showing the scene of the crime is much in evidence and plays an important part in the testimony. The state also submitted a series of photographs for the purpose of discrediting the contention of the defense that two shots were fire before defendants secured their guns.

Neat Window Display.

We note with much interest the way some of our enterprising local dealers are putting forth every effort this spring to make their stores attractive. This week Ramsey Drug Co. whose progressive policy has been strongly shown this spring by their large, attractive advertisements in our columns, have a fine window devoted entirely to house paint.

On close inspection one finds not only the usual display of paint cans but long cards showing rows of houses in new and handsome combinations of colors for exterior painting. An attractive window border brightens the appearance of the whole store and draws much attention from the passers-by. It attractively illustrates how easily and well any shabby surface in or about the house can be fixed up. Ramsey Drug Co. deserves much credit for this window and we are sure it will prove of much benefit in reminding people of the many things around their homes that can easily be beautified at house-cleaning time.

Listen Friends.

I don't want you to read this unless you have confidence in my word. For two years I suffered from a sore on my shin caused by an ax cut. I tried a great many remedies with no results. At last I went to Gwin & Mays, they sold me a box of "Gwin & Mays' Shin Salve," and the second 25c box cured that sore absolutely. I trust that my experience may help other sufferers,
